

Privacy Policy

At Sarah Ziebell Consulting, we are committed to protecting your privacy and handling your personal information with care and transparency. This policy outlines how we collect, use, and protect your information when you visit our website or engage with our services.

What We Collect

We may collect personal information such as your name, email address, phone number, and organisation details when you fill out a contact form, subscribe to updates, or engage our services. We only collect information that is relevant and necessary to deliver our services and respond to your enquiries.

How We Use Your Information

Your information is used to provide communication services, respond to your enquiries, deliver updates or resources you request, and maintain business records. We may also use your contact details to let you know about upcoming programs or offerings we think may be relevant to you. You can opt out at any time.

Storage and Security

We take reasonable steps to protect your personal information from loss, misuse, or unauthorised access. Information is stored securely and only accessed by those who need it to deliver our services.

Third Parties

We do not sell or share your personal information with third parties for marketing purposes. We may use trusted platforms (such as email or scheduling services) to support service delivery, and these providers are required to handle your data securely.

Your Rights

You may request access to your personal information or ask for it to be corrected or deleted at any time. To do so, please contact us at info@szconsulting.com.
